The Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Commission, as constituted, shall consist of the following members:—(i) a President, (ii) not less than two Deputy Presidents, (iii) a Senior Commissioner and (iv) not less than five Commissioners. In addition Conciliators shall be appointed for the purposes of this Act.

The Commission may exercise its powers under the Act on its own motion or on the application of a party to an industrial dispute or of an organization or person bound by an award.

The President may assign a Commissioner to deal with industrial disputes relating to particular industries, or members of the Commission to deal with a particular industrial dispute. However, subject to the approval of the President, it is the duty of the Senior Commissioner to organize and allocate the work of the Commissioners and of the Conciliators.

When an industrial dispute occurs or appears likely to occur, a Commissioner shall take such steps as he thinks fit for the prompt prevention or settlement of that dispute by conciliation or, if in his opinion conciliation is unlikely to succeed or has failed, by arbitration. A Commissioner may arrange with the Senior Commissioner for a Conciliator to assist the parties to reach an amicable agreement. If an agreement is arrived at between the parties to an industrial dispute, a memorandum of its terms shall be made in writing, and may be certified by a Commissioner. A certified memorandum shall have the same effect as an award for all purposes of the Act.

The Commission in Presidential Session (that is, the Commission constituted by at least three presidential members) and not otherwise, is empowered to deal with the making of awards or certifying agreements in so far as they concern standard hours, basic wages and long service leave.

A Commissioner shall, upon application by a party to an industrial dispute which is being dealt with by him, decide, in consultation with the President, whether the dispute is of such importance that in the public interest it should be dealt with by the Commission constituted by not less than three members nominated by the President, of whom at least one is a presidential member of the Commission, and another, where practicable, is the Commissioner concerned. The President may direct this Commission to hear the dispute; however, after consideration the Commission may refer the dispute or part of the dispute back to the Commissioner originally dealing with the dispute, for determination.

An appeal against the decision of a Commissioner may be heard by a Commission of not less than three members nominated by the President, of whom at least two are presidential members of the Commission. However, an appeal will not be heard unless the Commission considers it is a matter of public interest.

The following appointments were announced on 12th August, 1956:-

- (i) The Commonwealth Industrial Court-
 - Chief Justice Spicer, Justices Dunphy, Morgan,
- (ii) The Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Commission-
 - (a) President, Kirby, J.
 - (b) Deputy Presidents, Foster, Wright, Ashburner, JJ.

 - (d) Commissioners, L. P. Austin, J. R. Donovan, G. A. Findlay, F. D. Kelly, J. H. Portus, E. W. Tonkin, F. J. Webb.

In effect, Judges of the previous Arbitration Court were made either members of the Commonwealth Industrial Court or presidential members of the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Commission. Conciliation Commissioners became nonpresidential members of the Commission.

The first meeting of the Commonwealth Industrial Court was held on 23rd August, 1956 and that of the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Commission on 21st August, 1956.

The Public Service Arbitration Act, the Navigation Act, the Coal Industry Act and the Snowy Mountains Hydro-electric Power Act have been amended to make provision for the revised structure of the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

(a) Includes Australian Capital Territory. (b) Includes Northern Territory. (c) Male units represent total male employment plus a proportion of female employment based on the approximate ratio of female to male earnings. The same ratio has been used in each State, and because the average ratio of female to male earnings may vary between States, precise comparisons between average earnings in different States cannot be made on the basis of the figures above.

§ 4. Basic Wages in Australia.

Basic Wage Enquiry, 1955-56.—On 4th November, 1956, the Amalgamated Engineering Union and others made application to the Commonwealth Court of Conciliation and Arbitration for an alteration of the basic wage in the following respects, namely, for an increase in the basic wage to the amount it would have reached if automatic quarterly adjustments, deleted by the Court in September, 1953, had remained in force; an increase of a further 20s. in the basic wage; the reintroduction of automatic quarterly adjustments; and the abolition of the 3s. country differential.

The hearing commenced on 13th December, 1955, but later that day was adjourned until 14th February, 1956, after the Court had considered questions of procedure for the purpose of expediting the hearing of the case. The Commonwealth Government indicated to the Court its intention to intervene in the public interest under Section 26 of the Conciliation and Arbitration Act, and each of the State Governments was represented as a respondent.

When the hearing was resumed, the Court, consisting of Kirby, Dunphy, Wright and Morgan JJ., heard evidence from the parties, and then the Commonwealth Government, appearing as an intervenor in the public interest, submitted factual and statistical material about the state of the economy. The hearing concluded on 16th April, 1956 and the Court reserved its decision.

The Court's decision was announced on 25th May, 1956, rejecting (a) the claim for restoration of the system of automatic quarterly adjustments abolished in 1953; (b) the claim that the differential of 3s. less for country districts than the basic wage for the capital cites should be abolished; (c) the claim for an increase in the basic wages to the amounts which they would have reached if the provisions for automatic quarterly adjustments, deleted by the Court in 1953, had remained; and increasing the adult male basic wage by 10s. per week from the beginning of the first pay-period in June, 1956. Adult females received 7s. 6d. per week and juniors proportionate increases.

The new basic wage rates of the Commonwealth Court of Conciliation and Arbitration for adult males payable in the capital city of each State from the beginning of the first pay-period in June, 1956 are as follows:—

(b) Automatic adjustment discontinued from 23rd October, 1953, following decision of the Commonwealth Court of Conciliation and Arbitration on 12th September, 1953 (see page 188). Automatic adjustment re-introduced from first pay-period in November, 1955.

(c) No basic wage declared but rates shown (Melbourne) are those commonly adopted by Wages Boards. The Victorian Labour and Industry Act requires Wages Boards to provide for the automatic adjustment of wage rates in accordance with variations in retail price index numbers.

(d) The Queensland Industrial Court each quarter announces the variation, if any, in the basic wage after considering movements in the "C" Series retail price index numbers.

(e) The "living wage declared applies to the whole State except for a 58. loading at Whyalla. Quarterly variations in the "living wage" were discontinued, following the decision of the Commonwealth Court of Conciliation and Arbitration on 12th September, 1953. On 31st May, 1956, the Governor proclaimed a ros. increase in the "living wage" payable from 4th June, 1956 to conform with the increase of ros. announced on 25th May, 1956 by the Commonwealth Court of Conciliation and Arbitration.

(f) The Westers Australian Arbitration Court each quarter announces the variation, if any, in the basic wage, after conconsidering movements in the cost of living statements prepared by the Government Statistician.

(g) None declared but rates shown (Hobart) are those commonly adopted by Wages Boards. Commencing with the first pay-period in February, 1956, Wages Boards re-introduced automatic quarterly adjustments, based on movements in the "C" Series retail price index numbers.
