MAIN FEATURES

- The geographical distribution of the Tasmanian population on census night (30 June 1986) was:

Greater Hobart Statistical Division	40.1%
Southern Statistical Division	7.4%
Greater Launceston Statistical Subdivision	20.3%
Central North Statistical Subdivision	3.9%
North-Eastern Statistical Subdivision	3.5%
Northern Statistical Division	27.6%
Burnie-Devonport Statistical Subdivision	17.1%
North-Western Rural Statistical Subdivision	5.1%
Western Statistical Subdivision	2.6%
Mersey-Lyell Statistical Division	24.8%
Offshore areas and migratory	0.1%
- The median age of the Tasmanian population was 30.4 years. The median age of the Tasmanian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population was 18.0 years. Municipalities having the lowest median ages were Brighton 21.4, Waratah 24.9, Zeehan 25.7 and George Town 26.6. Municipalities with the highest median ages were Bruny 38.6, Glamorgan 35.1, Strahan 34.7, Oatlands 34.5 and Portland 34.4.
- The marital status of the Tasmanian population 15 years of age and over reveals that 26.6 per cent of persons have never been married, 59.4 per cent are now married, 2.6 per cent are separated but not divorced, 4.6 per cent are divorced and 6.7 per cent are widowed. Of all those who have never been married, 56 per cent are males and 44 per cent females, while over 81 per cent of all those widowed are females and less than 19 per cent are males.
- 89.8 per cent of Tasmania's population is Australian born. Of 44 166 persons born overseas, 79.1 per cent were born in Europe, 7.9 per cent in Oceania, 7.6 per cent in Asia, 3.0 per cent in the Americas and 2.4 per cent in Africa. Of the overseas born, 52.6 per cent were born in the United Kingdom and Eire.
- Municipalities having the highest proportion of persons born in Australia were Oatlands 96.6 per cent, Bothwell 96.3 per cent and Fingal and Ringarooma each with 95.3 per cent. Lowest proportions of Australian born were in Kingborough 82.7 per cent and Hobart with 82.8 per cent.
- Of persons responding to the religion question, 41.3 per cent indicated that they belonged to the Anglican denomination, 21.5 per cent to the Catholic, 9.8 per cent to the Uniting Church and 14.1 per cent to other Christian denominations. 12.8 per cent indicated no religion and 0.5 per cent belonged to non-Christian religions.
- 52.9 per cent of all Tasmanians aged 15 years and over were employed. Municipalities with high employment to population ratios included Waratah (68.1 per cent), Zeehan (67.8 per cent), King Island (65.7 per cent) and Kingborough (59.1 per cent). Municipalities with low employment to population ratios included Fingal (40.3 per cent), Brighton (44.5 per cent), Portland (45.2 per cent) and Glamorgan (47.2 per cent).
- Municipalities with high unemployment rates include Brighton 23.0 per cent, Fingal 20.8 per cent, Oatlands 16.6 per cent, Deloraine 14.3 per cent and Burnie 13.4 per cent. Low unemployment rates were recorded in Zeehan 4.6 per cent, Scottsdale 5.9 per cent, Lyell 6.5 per cent and Kingborough 6.7 per cent.
- The proportion of persons employed in the 'Government Sector' in Tasmania was 29.9 per cent. Municipalities having the highest proportions were Hamilton 56.8 per cent, Lyell 42.0 per cent and Hobart 40.8 per cent. Lowest proportions were in Waratah 12.3 per cent, Portland 15.3 per cent and Circular Head 16.0 per cent. 37 per cent of all employed persons living in the Greater Hobart Statistical Division worked in the Government Sector.
- Tasmania contained 118 153 families at 30 June 1986. 85.7 per cent of families include a couple (either married or in a de facto relationship).
- Of families which include a couple, 30.6 per cent are couples only, and 36.0 per cent are couples with dependent children only.
- Families which include a single parent comprised 8.3 per cent of all Tasmanian families. The Greater Hobart Statistical Division recorded the highest proportion (9.3 per cent) of single parent families and the Western Statistical Subdivision the lowest (5.0 per cent).
- Municipalities having a high incidence of single parent families were Brighton 19.3 per cent, Launceston 10.2 per cent, Campbell Town 9.8 per cent and Burnie 9.7 per cent.
- Municipalities with the highest incidences of couples were Waratah 95.6 per cent, Zeehan 93.3 per cent, and Evandale 92.1 per cent.
- Tasmania's median family income was $22 161.
- Municipalities having the highest median family incomes were Waratah ($29 274), Zeehan ($29 155), Hobart ($28 375) and Kingborough ($27 474).
- Municipalities with low median incomes included Tasman ($14 456), Portland ($14 841), Ringarooma ($15 360) and Deloraine ($15 980).
- 71.9 per cent of Tasmanian occupied private dwellings are owned or being purchased. Municipalities with highest proportions were Beaconsfield (84.9 per cent), Huon (83.5 per cent), Sorell (83.4 per cent) and Penguin (82.3 per cent). The lowest proportions were Waratah (10.4 per cent), Zeehan (31.5 per cent) and Brighton (41.0 per cent).

EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. Introduction

This publication gives details of the population and dwellings in legal local government areas (LGAs) from the Census of Population and Housing conducted on 30 June 1986.

2. Scope and coverage

The 1986 Census of Population and Housing aimed at counting every person who spent census night, 30 June 1986, in Australia, including persons on vessels in or between Australian ports, or on board long-distance trains, buses or aircraft. All private dwellings were counted, whether occupied or unoccupied. Occupied non-private dwellings, such as hospitals, prisons, hotels etc. were also included. People were counted where they were on census night, which may not have been where they usually lived. Place of usual residence was asked of each person, and answers, where they differed from enumeration address, were coded to statistical local area (SLA) level. Visitors to Australia were enumerated regardless of how long ago they had arrived or how long they planned to stay. Australian residents out of the country on census night were excluded from the count.

Diplomatic personnel and their families are out of the scope of the census, as are diplomatic residences.

3. Definitions

Census Count — Place of Enumeration

Persons were counted where they were actually located on census night. Overseas visitors are included and Australians overseas are excluded. No adjustment is made for census underenumeration.

Census Count — Place of Usual Residence

Persons were counted according to their stated place of usual residence. Overseas visitors and Australians overseas are excluded, and no adjustment is made for census underenumeration. Statistics on a place of usual residence basis are not included in this publication.

Estimated Resident Population (ERP)

These estimates are formed by adding estimates of Australians overseas, and of the census undercount, to the census count at place of usual residence. The ERP at census date is updated between population censuses. ERP statistics are not included in this publication.

Occupied Private Dwelling: is normally a house, flat, part of a house, or even a room (but can also be a house above shops or offices, a boat or a tent or caravan if it is standing on its own block of land) occupied by a person or group of persons living and eating together as a domestic unit. It excludes establishments such as hotels, motels, boarding houses, and caravans in caravan parks etc.

Unoccupied Private Dwelling: is a structure built specifically for living purposes, which is habitable, but unoccupied at the time of the census. Vacant tents, garages and caravans (if not normally occupied) are excluded.

4. The statistics in this publication are based on the census count at the place of enumeration. Population estimates will be released when full Census 86 statistical data for Australia are available later in 1987.

5. Census Counts of Aboriginals and Torres Strait Islanders

Identification of the Aboriginal population is based on self-identification, with people of mixed race indicating the origin to which they consider themselves to belong. Responses to questions of this nature at different times can be affected by changes in community attitudes. 1986 counts are believed to be the best so far achieved for a census, due to improvements made in the collection and processing of information, and the operation of an awareness campaign within the Tasmanian community focussing on the importance of accurately counting this population.

6. Data quality

Statistical collections such as the census are subject to a number of sources of error. While some errors (such as deliberate misreporting) defy detection and correction procedures, the number of errors in overall census results is expected to be generally insignificant. Information on data quality will be released from late 1987.

Main sources of error in the census are:

- (a) Underenumeration. Despite efforts to obtain full coverage of persons and dwellings (other than those associated with overseas diplomatic missions), some undercounting still occurs. A measure of the extent of underenumeration is obtained from a small survey of households undertaken very shortly after the census. While results from this source for the 1986 Census are not yet available, undercounting of persons in the 1981 Census was estimated to be 1.9 per cent for Australia as a whole.
- (b) Partial response. In those instances where the householder omitted to provide a response to a question, a 'not stated' code was allocated; with the exception of non-response to age, sex and marital status, and SLA of usual residence. These variables were imputed using other information on the census form, and specially constructed random tables.
- (c) Respondent error. Computer editing procedures are used to detect obvious errors made by individuals in completing the form (for example, a six year old male who was married). Such procedures cannot detect all respondent errors and some remain in final output.
- (d) Processing error. Errors created during the processing of the census are kept at an acceptable level by means of a quality control system, which involves sample checking at different stages of the coding and keying operations, and taking corrective action where necessary.
- (e) Introduced random adjustments. Adjustments are made to table cells to allow the maximum of detailed census data to be released, while protecting the confidentiality of information about individual persons. For this reason, and since possible respondent and processing errors have greatest relative impact on small cells, no reliance should be placed on cells of three or less.

7. Further Information

The ABS has produced a number of information papers which explain all aspects of the conduct, processing and output available from Census 86. Details of standard output products to be released from the census are contained in Census 86 — Data Release Plans (2173.0). Details of tabulations are contained in the Catalogue of 1986 Census Tables (2175.0). The 1986 Census Dictionary (2174.0) contains definitions of terms and explains concepts in the collection, processing and output phases of the census.

The ABS plans to release further data for Tasmania from Census 86 over the next few months. Separate publications containing a similar range of data to that contained in this publication will be released for Hobart and Suburbs (2201.6), Launceston and Suburbs (2202.6) and Burnie, Devonport and Surrounding Areas (2203.6).

Current publications produced by the ABS are listed in the Catalogue of Publications, Australia (1101.0) available from any ABS office.

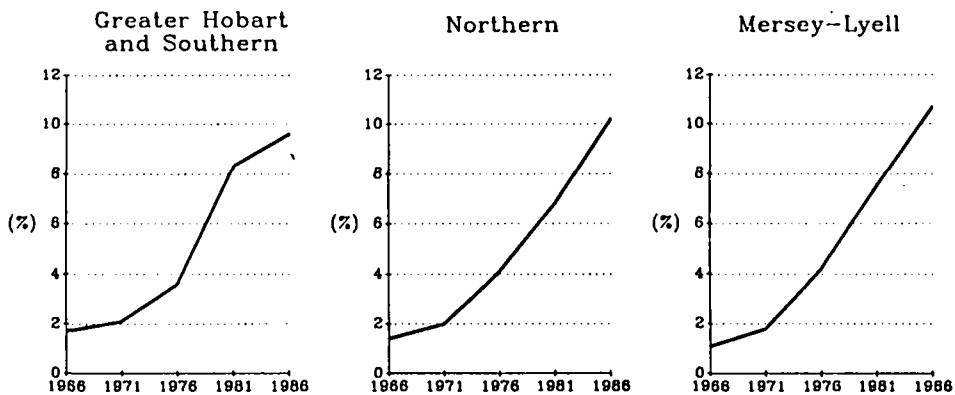

8. Symbols and other usages

The following symbols, where used, mean:

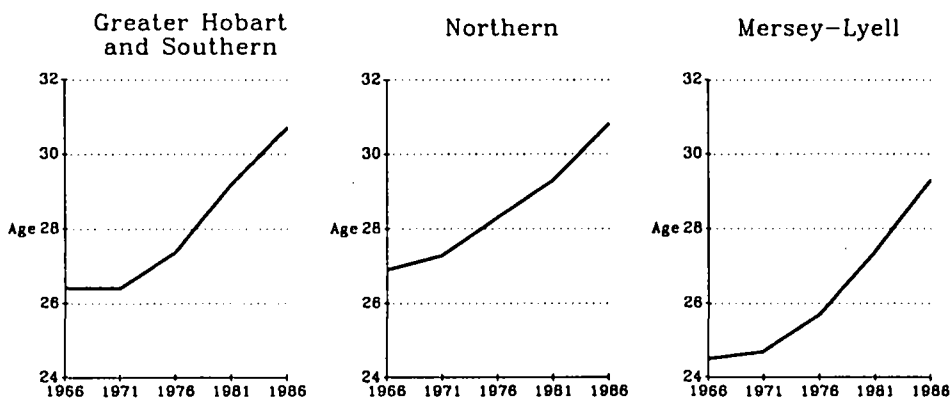

- .. not applicable
- nil or randomised to zero

Discrepancies may occur between sums of the component items and totals due to the introduction of random adjustments of small cells.
