CONSUMER PRICE INDEX

The Consumer Price Index: All Groups Index for Hobart decreased by 0.5% in the March quarter 1999, but increased by 0.5% for the year ending March 1999. Of all the capital cities, only Sydney and Melbourne recorded increases in the March quarter, both being only 0.2%. The weighted average of the eight capitals also showed a fall of 0.1% for the March quarter, but an increase for the year ending March 1999 of 1.2%.

Most of the Hobart decrease in the March quarter was contributed by the Health and Personal Care group (down by 8.9%). This was due to the one-off impact of the introduction of the Federal Government's 30% rebate on private health insurance from 1 January 1999. All other groups for Hobart recorded minimal movements for the quarter. (See table 17)

BUILDING MATERIALS PRICE INDEXES

The price index of materials used in house building in Hobart decreased by 0.2% during the March quarter 1999, and increased by 0.7% during the year ending March 1999. All of the six State capital cities recorded increases over the twelve months ending March, with Brisbane recording the highest increase over the period, at 1.2%. The weighted average of the six State capital cities increased by 0.7% over the same period.

For materials used in building other than house building, the price index for Hobart decreased by 0.1% during the March quarter 1999, but increased by 0.7% during the year ending March 1999. There was very little movement in the index over the March quarter for any of the capital cities, with the weighted average of them all showing no change. Over the year ending March, the index for the weighted average of the six capitals increased by 1.0%.

Components in Hobart's price index of materials other than house building that recorded the largest increases over the year ending March 1999 were paint and other coatings (up 2.8%), and builders' hardware (up 1.8%). These rises were offset by a fall in the prices of steel decking, cladding etc. (down 7.2%).

Deaths of children under one year of age.
 Total fertility rate. The sum of age-specific fertility rates (live births at each age of mother per female population of that age). It represents the number of children a woman would bear during her lifetime if she experienced current age-specific fertility rates at each age of her reproductive life.
 Standardised death rate. The overall death rate, per 1,000 persons, that would have prevailed in a standard population if it had experienced at each age the death rates of the population being studied. The standard population used in these calculations is all persons in the 1991 Australian population.
 Rate per 1,000 live births.
 Crude marriage rate is the number of marriages registered during the calendar year, per 1,000 estimated resident population at 30 June of that year. (Source: Australian Demographic Statistics, ABS catalogue number 3101.0)

² Includes re-exports.
