

Appendix A

CHRONOLOGY OF IMPORTANT EVENTS, 1979

January

- 1 The Victorian road toll for 1978 was 869 persons killed.
- 4 The Minister for Education announced that a $16m college of advanced education would be built at Mildura.
- 7 A fierce storm swept across central Victoria causing extensive damage. The storm blew roofs off houses, twisted electricity towers, uprooted huge trees, and flattened fences, crops, and buildings.
- 8 The State Electricity Commission announced plans to spend approximately $6,700m to double its generating capacity.
- 16 A record Victorian grain harvest of over 3.7 million tonnes was completed.

February

- 2 Melbourne experienced its hottest day for 11 years when the temperature reached 43.3°C.
- 8 The Minister of Water Supply announced plans for the building of a $20m dam on the Tanjil River in Gippsland.
- 12 T.R.H. The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester arrived in Melbourne for a four-day visit.
- 14 The Victorian Government announced contracts worth $57m for the Loy Yang power station in the La Trobe Valley.
- 25 A violent electrical storm caused widespread damage and power blackouts in many Melbourne suburbs.
- 27 The Victorian Railways announced a record loss of $94.8m for the first half of the 1978-79 year.

March

- 8 An 8 kilometre bicycle path was opened along the Yarra River.
- 9 The Victorian Government announced that it would spend $60m over the next five years to develop the satellite cities of Melton and Sunbury.
- 14 The Victorian Government suspended its fluoridation programme pending an investigation of its safety by an independent investigating team.
- 22 Major changes to planning procedures in Victoria were announced by the Minister for Planning.
- 26 Plans were approved for the first stage of a marine science centre at Queenscliff.
- 31 The Victorian Universities and Schools Examinations Board ceased operating and its functions were transferred to the Victorian Institute of Secondary Education.

April

- 4 A major aluminium producer announced plans to build a $350m aluminium smelter in Victoria.
- 5 More than 3,000 truck drivers used their trucks to block major highways in four States including Victoria. The blockade was in protest against State haulage and maintenance taxes.

19 The State Executive Council approved a $108.5m contract for the supply of 50 air-conditioned silver trains.

25 Four new national parks and nine new State parks were announced by the Minister for Conservation. The new parks doubled the area of land in Victoria devoted to parks and reserves.

May

2 His Excellency Mr Choi Kyu Hah, Prime Minister of the Republic of Korea, arrived in Melbourne for a two-day visit.

5 The Liberal Party was returned to office in the Victorian State election with a majority of one.

17 A four-second earth tremor shook Melbourne's south-eastern suburbs.

The State Electricity Commission introduced severe power restrictions after a snap strike by seven key operators at the Commission's power station in the La Trobe Valley.

Victoria's four universities agreed to a new assessment procedure to replace the Higher School Certificate.

June

5 A Royal Commission was appointed to investigate any dishonesty, misconduct, or negligence in land purchases made by the Housing Commission.

12 Portland was named as the location for a $350m aluminium smelter.

14 New regulations covering workers compensation payments to persons suffering from heart conditions or strokes were introduced by the Victorian Government.

20 Employees of Telecom Australia imposed bans on the maintenance of telecommunications equipment in support of a pay claim.

21 A 24-hour national strike closed factories and shut down public transport systems. The strike was in protest over the arrest of two unionists in Western Australia.

28 Public transport workers in Victoria, South Australia, and Tasmania commenced an indefinite strike.

Bans on the maintenance of telecommunications equipment seriously affected telecommunications in the eastern States of Australia. Sydney was almost cut off from the rest of Australia and Melbourne's interstate links were severely limited.

30 Melbourne experienced its driest June for seven years.

July

1 The Victorian Government imposed a fuel levy of 1 cent per litre on petrol sales.

2 Public transport workers in Victoria, South Australia, and Tasmania returned to work.

4 The Minister of Housing announced a major review of public and private housing policies and programmes in Victoria.

9 Victoria's emergency services were placed on alert for the expected crash landing of the Skylab space craft.

15 Train, tram, and tramway bus employees stopped work for 48-hours in support of a wage claim.

17 Work bans imposed by technicians employed by Telecom Australia were lifted.

August

7 Strict regulations covering the conversion of cars to liquefied petroleum gas were introduced by the Victorian Government.

8 Melbourne was selected as the site for the next Commonwealth Heads of Government Conference in 1981.

21 The Commonwealth Government announced plans to build a $9.1m chemical laboratory for the CSIRO at Clayton.

23 A strike by Victoria's public transport workers stopped all trains, trams, and government buses for 48-hours.

September

6 Victoria experienced a total lunar eclipse which began at 6.20 p.m.

26 The Treasurer brought down the Victorian Budget. Estimated expenditure for 1979-80 was $3,931.4m.

29 Carlton defeated Collingwood to win the Victorian Football League Grand Final.

October

- 10 A $1.2m twin-engine helicopter was officially handed over to the Victoria Police Force Air Wing.
- 15 The Victorian Government announced a ceiling interest rate of 8 per cent for all Housing Commission home buyers.
- 18 A 48-hour train, tram, and tramway bus strike took place.
- 22 The Victorian Government decided to proceed with the building of a $13.5m dam on the Mitchell River near Bairnsdale.
- 24 Their Majesties King Taufa'ahau Tupou IV and Queen Halaevalu Mata'aho of Tonga, arrived in Melbourne for a four-day visit.
- 26 The Chief Commissioner of Police announced that many inner suburban and one-man country police stations will be closed under a five-year plan.

November

- 1 A plan to establish a $10m fund to support future development in the La Trobe Valley was announced by the Victorian Government.
- 6 The Commonwealth Government announced that $70.3m would be spent on Victoria's main and rural roads during 1979-80.
- The winner of the Melbourne Cup was Hyperno.
- 7 The Gas and Fuel Corporation recalled all vehicles it had converted to liquefied petroleum gas because of a potentially dangerous gauge. The recall followed an investigation by the Corporation and the producer of the conversion kits.
- 9 His Excellency Sir Zelman Cowen, A.K., G.C.M.G., K.St.J., Q.C. officially opened the $132m Dartmouth Dam on the Mitta Mitta River in north-eastern Victoria.
- 20 Natural gas was discovered near Port Campbell in south-west Victoria.
- 21 Members of a 13-man Chinese goodwill mission, led by the chairman of the Jiangsu Provincial Revolutionary Committee, Mr Xu Jiatusun, arrived in Melbourne.

December

- 4 The Commonwealth Government approved in principle a plan to electrify the 961 kilometre rail line between Melbourne and Sydney.
- A State all-party Parliamentary committee was set up to investigate media ownership and control. The committee's charter was to find ways of protecting the independence of the media and ensuring true competition.
- 18 The Victorian Government Landmark Commission Report named no winner from the 2,300 entries received. Forty-eight local and overseas entries shared the $100,000 first prize.

Appendix B

AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL ACCOUNTS

Introduction

The information given in this appendix has been derived from the publication Australian National Accounts, National Income and Expenditure, 1978-79 (5204.0) published by the Australian Statistician, Canberra. The structure of the accounts was revised in the 1971-72 edition to conform to the international standard described in the United Nations publication A System of National Accounts, 1968.

National accounting aims at providing a systematic summary of the transactions taking place in the economy, especially those which relate to the production and use of goods and services and to transfers of income or capital between sectors of the economy.

Concepts

The following notes describe briefly the fundamental concepts of production, income, and expenditure involved:

Gross domestic product is the total market value of goods and services produced in Australia within a given period after deduction of the cost of goods and services used in the process of production but before deducting allowances for the consumption of fixed capital. Thus gross domestic product, as defined, is "at market prices". It is equivalent to gross national expenditure plus exports of goods and services less imports of goods and services.

Gross domestic product at factor cost is that part of the cost of producing the gross domestic product which consists of gross payments to factors of production (labour, land, capital, and enterprise). It represents the value added by these factors in the process of production and is equivalent to gross domestic product less indirect taxes plus subsidies.

Domestic factor incomes is that part of the value added within a given period by factors of production (labour, land, capital, and enterprise) which accrues as income to their suppliers after allowing for the depreciation of fixed capital. It is equivalent to gross domestic product at factor cost less depreciation allowances.

National income is equivalent to gross domestic product, less depreciation allowances and net income paid overseas.

National disposable income is equivalent to national income, less net transfers overseas.

National turnover of goods and services is the sum of the gross domestic product plus imports of goods and services. In turn, the total turnover of goods and services equals the sum of gross national expenditure and exports of goods and services.

Gross national expenditure is the total expenditure within a given period on final goods and services (i.e., excluding goods and services used up during the period in the process of production) bought by Australian residents. It is equivalent to gross domestic product plus imports of goods and services less exports of goods and services.

Household income is the total income whether in cash or kind, received by persons normally resident in Australia in return for productive activity (such as wages, salaries and supplements, incomes of unincorporated enterprises, etc.) and transfer incomes (such as cash social service benefits, interest, etc.). It includes the imputed interests of life offices and superannuation funds, which is the benefit accruing to policy holders and members from investment income of the funds. It also includes third party motor vehicle and public risk insurance claims paid to persons in respect of policies taken out by enterprises. However, it excludes any income which might be said to accrue to persons in the form of undistributed company income. It also includes any property income received by non-profit organisations such as private schools, churches, charitable organisations, etc.

Income of farm unincorporated enterprises is the estimated gross value of production (after stock valuation adjustment) less all estimated costs of those engaged in rural industries less company income.

Private final consumption expenditure covers the expenditure on goods and services by persons and expenditure of a current nature by non-profit organisations serving households and includes durable as well as non-durable goods. Goods and services purchased by business or general government are excluded. However, expenditure by persons on the purchase of dwellings and capital purchases by unincorporated enterprises and non-profit organisations are included in investment expenditure. Imputed rent of owner-occupied dwellings is included together with other dwelling rent. It should be noted that expenditure on goods and services is measured net of receipts. Motor car insurance is shown as premiums paid less claims received; gambling is measured as bets laid less winnings and a similar situation occurs with purchases in which trade-ins of second hand goods are involved.

Sectors

The following is a brief description of the sectors into which the economy has been divided for the purposes of national accounting:

The household sector includes all resident persons, their unincorporated enterprises located in Australia and dwellings owned by persons, and private non-profit organisations serving households other than those included in the financial enterprises sector.

The general government sector excludes public financial and trading enterprises but otherwise includes the whole of the activities of the Commonwealth, State, and local governments, and public corporations. Public corporations are bodies created by or under legislation to carry out activities on behalf of a government, or incorporated organisations in which a government has a controlling interest.

The financial enterprises sector includes both public and private financial enterprises which are regarded as providing the financial mechanism for the functioning of the economy rather than producing or distributing goods and services. In one way or another they are engaged mainly in the borrowing and lending of money. Examples of the enterprises included in this sector are banks, instalment credit companies, co-operative building societies, life insurance companies, and superannuation funds.

The corporate trading enterprises sector includes companies, and public enterprises, other than financial enterprises. It thus includes all trading enterprises, other than unincorporated enterprises and dwellings owned by persons.

The overseas sector accounts record all transactions between Australian persons, businesses, and government, and overseas residents.

National accounts

Tables 1 to 4 which follow, summarise the transactions which have taken place in the Australian economy during 1978-79. The following is a short description of the accounts included in the tables:

1. The domestic production account is a consolidation of the production accounts of all sectors. Credited to the account is the revenue from sale of goods and services to final buyers; all intermediate goods and services are cancelled out, as a cost to one producer offsets the revenue of the other. On the payments side are shown the payments of indirect taxes less subsidies and, since the account is presented from the point of view of the producing unit, the wages and salaries paid to employees. The balance is the gross operating surplus which may be divided into depreciation allowances and net operating surplus. Depreciation allowances are carried to the national capital account, and net operating surplus, with wages and salaries and indirect taxes less subsidies, is carried to the national income and outlay account.

2. The national income and outlay account is shown as receiving wages, salaries, and supplements, net operating surplus and indirect taxes less subsidies from the domestic production account. From this income are deducted net payments of income overseas and miscellaneous transfers to overseas, the remainder being the national disposable income. The outlay side of the account shows this disposable income as largely used for final consumption expenditure and the balance is the nation's savings.

3. The national capital account is a consolidation of the sector capital accounts. On the receipts side it shows depreciation allowances transferred from the domestic production account and savings transferred from the national income and outlay account (or from the sector income and outlay accounts). On the payments side are shown purchases by all sectors of new buildings and capital equipment, the increase of stocks of all sectors, and a balance described as net lending to overseas. This latter concept includes the movement in Australia's overseas monetary reserves. The net lending to overseas is also the balance on current transactions in the overseas transactions account.

4. The overseas transactions account records all transactions of a current nature between Australian and overseas residents, the items being named from the Australian viewpoint. Receipts consist of the value of exports of goods and services, property income received from overseas, and transfers from overseas. These receipts are used for imports of goods and services and payments of property income and transfers to overseas; and the balance of the current receipts represents net lending to overseas. This balance, however, differs from the current account balance shown in balance of payments statistics, because in the national accounts undistributed company income is not imputed to the overseas beneficial owners as it is in balance of payments statistics.

Implicit price deflators

Statistics of implicit price deflators have been published as part of Australian National Accounts in recent years. Implicit price deflators are obtained by dividing aggregate flows of goods and services measured at current prices by the corresponding estimates at constant prices. Thus they are derived measures (hence the term implicit) and are not direct measures of price changes by which the current price estimates are converted to estimates at constant prices.

When calculated from the major national accounting aggregates, such as expenditure on gross domestic product, implicit price deflators relate to a generally broader scope of goods and services in the economy than that represented by any of the individual retail and wholesale price indexes that are published by the Australian Bureau of Statistics. However, the usefulness of implicit price deflators as indicators of price change is greatly limited by the following factors:

- (1) They are susceptible to inadequacies in both the current price national accounts estimates and the data available for the derivation of constant price estimates;
- (2) they are subject to revision because of revisions in the relevant current and/or constant price estimates; and
- (3) they provide an estimate of the price change between the base period of the relevant constant price estimates (currently 1974-75) and another period using the quantity weights of the other period. Because the weights change from period to period, implicit price deflators do not compare the price of a constant basket of goods and services between any two periods except in comparing the base period with any other period. Therefore, a change in an implicit price deflator between any two periods, neither of which is the base period, represents a combination of actual price changes between the two periods and the effects of relative changes in the physical composition of the aggregate from which the deflator is derived.

The following table shows the implicit price deflators derived from selected national accounting aggregates for the years 1974-75 to 1978-79:

INDEX OF SPECIAL ARTICLES AND MAPS IN THE VICTORIAN YEAR BOOKS 1974 to 1979

The following are lists of special articles and maps which appeared in the Victorian Year Books 1974 to 1979. Many articles are extensively altered or omitted each year to provide space for new material. These lists are revised each year to furnish readers with up-to-date cumulative indexes of special articles and maps published in editions from 1974 onwards. Where an article has appeared more than once, reference is given to its most recent appearance. The figures beside entries indicate the year and pages of the Year Book to which reference is made.

Lists of special articles and maps which appeared in the series of the Victorian Year Book commencing with Volume 75, 1961, up to and including the 1972 edition, are set out on pages 1162-70 of the Victorian Year Book 1973.

Appendix E

VICTORIAN STATISTICAL PUBLICATIONS

Introduction

This appendix describes the official publications issued by the Victorian Office of the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS). These are grouped into a numbering system common to the ABS Central Office in Canberra and the Offices in each State. The system is based on nine broad subject matter categories (indicated by the first digit of the catalogue number) which are further sub-divided into a maximum of nine sub-categories (second digit). The third and fourth digits are permanent serial numbers allocated to particular publications, while the fifth digit identifies the originating Office ("2" for Victorian Office publications and "0" for Central Office publications). In the following list, the catalogue number appropriate for each Victorian Office publication precedes its title.

The Victorian Year Book and the Victorian Pocket Year Book are presently the only priced publications issued by the Victorian Office. All other Victorian Office publications are free and no postal charges apply. Remittances for the priced publications must accompany all orders and must include postage.

The Monthly Summary of Statistics (1303.2) lists Victorian Office publications issued each month. Copies of publications issued may be examined in the library of the ABS Victorian Office in Melbourne. The publications themselves may be obtained from the Sales of Publications counter:

Eighth Floor,
Commonwealth Banks Building,
Cnr Flinders and Elizabeth Streets,
Melbourne

or by writing to:

Information Services Section,
Australian Bureau of Statistics,
Box 2796Y, G.P.O.,
Melbourne, Vic. 3001

Inquirers seeking general statistical information should call on or write to the Information Services Section, Eighth Floor, at the address listed above, or should telephone (03) 63 0181 and ask for Information Services Section. In some cases, statistical information exists additional to that published which for various reasons is unsuitable for publication but may be made available on request. However, charges may be made for unpublished information requiring extensive clerical or computer extraction or photocopying.

It should also be noted that many publications issued by the ABS Central Office, not listed below, also contain information pertaining to Victoria. A full list of all publications issued by all Offices of the ABS is contained in the Catalogue of Publications (1101.0), which is available free of charge from any ABS Office.
