NOTES

- ABOUT THIS PUBLICATION This publication presents comparable statistics relating to cases of Federal Defendants heard in the criminal jurisdiction of the Higher (Supreme and Intermediate), Magistrates' and Children's Courts across Australia for the period 1 July 2010 to 30 June 2011. The statistics describe the characteristics of defendants with finalised federal offences, including information about their offences and sentence outcomes.
- CHANGES IN THIS ISSUE The principal counting unit for the federal defendants collection is a finalised defendant. For the first time in this issue, a further step is taken when a defendant has more than one case in the reference period. When this occurs a defendant is created by merging defendant records. Details of the counting methodology can be found in the Explanatory Notes paragraphs 27–29.
- DATA CONSISTENCY The statistics are sourced from the national Criminal Courts collection conducted by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS), and have been compiled according to national standards in order to maximise consistency between the states and territories. The Explanatory Notes, Appendices and Glossary provide detailed information on the data sources, counting rules, terminology, classifications and other technical aspects associated with these statistics.
- ROUNDING Discrepancies may occur between sums of the component items and totals across tables due to rounding and randomisation.
- INFORMATION ON ABS CRIME AND JUSTICE More information about ABS activities in the field of crime and justice statistics is available from the 'Topics @ a Glance' page on the ABS website <www.abs.gov.au>. Details of other ABS publications relating to crime and justice statistics can be found in the Explanatory Notes paragraph 53.
- ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS The ABS acknowledges the valuable contribution of the Board of Management, the National Criminal Courts Statistics Advisory Group, the Court Practitioners' Group and the staff of the various agencies that provide the statistics presented in this publication.

INTRODUCTION

This publication presents statistics about finalised defendants charged with federal offences that were dealt with by the criminal jurisdiction of the Higher (Supreme and Intermediate), Magistrates' and Children's Courts of Australia, for the period 1 July 2010 to 30 June 2011. It includes data for all states and territories, except the Tasmanian Higher Courts. Data for the Tasmanian Higher Courts are not available for inclusion in the publication, therefore complete national data are not yet available for this collection. Data for the contributing states and territories have been aggregated to provide a total for the tables presented, unless otherwise specified.

This chapter provides an introduction to the federal defendants collection. Chapter 2 presents data about finalised defendants with federal charges classified using the Australian and New Zealand Standard Offence Classification (ANZSOC). Chapter 3 presents data about federal offences heard in the criminal courts and classified to a non-standard group of offences, providing an alternative view of federal defendants and their charges.

FINALISED DEFENDANTS

Finalised defendants include persons charged with Commonwealth criminal offences for each court level, as well as organisations charged with Commonwealth criminal offences for the Higher and Magistrates' Courts. A federal defendant is a finalised defendant who has been charged with at least one offence against Commonwealth legislation, irrespective of whether they have also been charged with any offences under state/territory legislation.

Prior to 2010–11, defendants were counted for each case they had finalised during the reference period, irrespective of whether multiple cases were finalised on the same day at the same hearing. For the first time in this issue, a further step is taken when a defendant has more than one case in the reference period. When this occurs a defendant

is created by merging defendant records. This counting rule is now consistent with that applied in Criminal Courts, Australia (cat. no. 4513.0). The change in counting methodology has had a minimal impact on population counts for federal defendants in 2010–11. Details of the counting methodology can be found in the Explanatory Notes paragraph 27–29.

The statistics presented in this publication are based on data extracted from administrative records held by the state and territory agencies responsible for courts administration.

OFFENCE INFORMATION

Offence data in this publication are presented using both the ANZSOC and an alternative specialised view of the types of federal offences that are finalised for defendants. ANZSOC provides a basis for the standard collection, analysis and dissemination of offence data within Crime and Justice statistics. For more information, see Explanatory Notes paragraph 20. Chapter 2 presents information on the number of offences finalised, as well as the principal federal offence.

Principal federal offence

When presenting information on defendants in this publication, the offence categories referred to relate to the defendant's most serious federal offence, known as the 'principal federal' offence. Whilst it is possible for a defendant to be charged with multiple offences under Commonwealth legislation as well as state/territory legislation, only offences enacted under Commonwealth legislation are considered in scope of this publication. For information on defendants with state/territory offences and/or Commonwealth offences refer to Criminal Courts, Australia (cat. no. 4513.0).

Where defendants are represented by multiple federal offences, they are assigned a principal federal offence based on the method of finalisation and/or the most serious offence type using an ordinal ranking from the National Offence Index (NOI) 2009.

An alternative view of the types of federal offences is presented in Chapter 3. The offence types used in this chapter are not based on an official standard but have been created to compile groupings of Commonwealth offences of particular interest to users, using Act and Section information. These groupings may comprise a range of offences that reside in a number of different ANZSOC Subdivisions. For more information about these non-standard offence groupings and their concordance to Commonwealth Acts/Section and ANZSOC division, refer to Appendix 4.

INTRODUCTION

This chapter presents information about the characteristics of defendants charged with federal offences finalised in Australia's criminal courts during 2010–11. Characteristics of defendants include age, sex, their principal federal offence, and sentence outcomes, as well as a count of the total number of federal offences heard by the criminal courts during 2010–11. Offence data in this chapter are based on ANZSOC. Data are presented for all states and territories except the Tasmanian Higher Courts, due to their data not being readily available.

SUMMARY

In 2010–11, there were a total of 10,828 defendants finalised in Australia's criminal courts with at least one federal offence: 756 in the Higher Courts; 9,910 in the Magistrates' Courts; and 162 in the Children's Courts (Table 2.1).

There were 10,432 persons and 396 organisations finalised in 2010–11 compared with 13,156 persons and 851 organisations in 2009–10. Over two-thirds (68% or 7,387) of all finalised defendants were male while 27% (2,886) were female (Table 2.1).

Across all three court levels, 71% of defendants finalised were proven guilty of at least one federal offence. Of those proven guilty, one-fifth (20% or 1,550) were sentenced to a custodial order (Table 2.1).

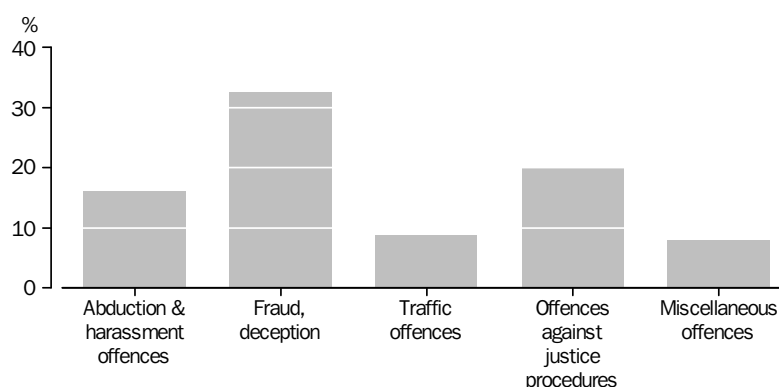

The 10,828 defendants represented a total of 42,037 federal offences finalised; an average of 3.9 offences per defendant. There were 3,264 federal offences finalised in the Higher Courts; 38,417 in the Magistrates' Courts; and 356 in the Children's Courts (Table 2.1).

PRINCIPAL FEDERAL OFFENCE

One-third (33%) of defendants finalised across all court levels had a principal federal offence of fraud and deception, followed by offences against justice procedures (20%) and abduction and harassment (16%). Of defendants finalised who had a principal federal offence of fraud and deception, most were classified to the ANZSOC Subdivision of obtain benefit by deception (86%) (Table 2.2).

FEDERAL DEFENDANTS - ALL COURTS (a), Selected principal federal offences

(a) Excludes Tasmanian federal defendants in the Higher Criminal Courts.

Of the defendants heard in the Higher Courts, the majority had a principal federal offence in the following three ANZSOC Divisions: fraud and deception (26%); illicit drug offences (22%); offences against justice procedures (20%); and sexual assault (17%) (Table 2.2).

For the Magistrates' Courts, over two-thirds had a principal federal offence in the following three ANZSOC Divisions: fraud and deception (34%); offences against justice procedures (20%); and abduction and harassment (17%) (Table 2.2).

Over three-quarters of defendants in the Children's Court had a principal federal offence in the following five ANZSOC Divisions: abduction and harassment (41%); offences against justice procedures (14%); miscellaneous offences (9%); fraud and deception (8%); and theft and related offences (7%) (Table 2.2).

OFFENCE TYPES

Of the 42,037 offences across all court levels, over three-quarters were classified to three ANZSOC Divisions: fraud and deception (46%); offences against justice procedures (27%); and abduction and harassment (8%) (Table 2.3).

The largest number of offences finalised in the Higher Courts related to fraud and deception (44%), followed by sexual assault and related offences (24%) and offences against justice procedures (13%) (Table 2.3).

For the Magistrates' Courts, fraud and deception (47%), offences against justice procedures (28%) and abduction and harassment (8%) were the most prevalent (Table 2.3).

For the Children's Court, the largest number of offences finalised related to abduction and harassment (51%), offences against justice procedures (16%) and fraud and deception (12%) (Table 2.3).

AGE AND SEX

The proportion of male defendants finalised varied somewhat between court levels: 83% of defendants in the Higher Courts were male, compared with 70% in the Magistrates' Courts and 68% in the Children's Courts (Table 2.6).

Across the three court levels, the 30–39 year age group was the highest represented age cohort (28%), and this was consistent for both males and females. More than half (53%) of all defendants were aged between 25 and 44 years. In the Children's Courts, one-half of all defendants (50%) were aged 16 or 17 years of age (Table 2.6).

The largest age cohort in New South Wales, Queensland and South Australia was 35–39 year olds. In Victoria, 40–44 year olds had the highest proportion of finalised defendants. The largest age cohorts in the other states and territories were 30–34 year olds in Western Australia and Tasmania, 25–29 year olds in the Northern Territory and 20–24 year olds in the Australian Capital Territory (Table 2.7).

FINALISATION METHOD

In the Higher Courts, 89% (672) of the 756 defendants were proven guilty (Table 2.1). The proportion of defendants proven guilty within the combined Magistrates' and Children's Courts was 70% (7,049), and a further 19% (1,903) were withdrawn by the prosecution (Table 2.12).

SENTENCE OUTCOMES

In the Higher Courts, 95% (640) of defendants proven guilty received a custodial order as their principal sentence, compared with 13% (888) in the Magistrates' Courts and 19% (22) in the Children's Courts (Table 2.1).

Across all court levels, defendants were predominantly issued with a custodial order as their principal sentence where their principal federal offence was sexual assault (86%) or illicit drugs (72%). Those defendants with a principal federal offence in the category of offences against justice procedures were predominantly sentenced to a monetary order (70%) (Table 2.9).

Defendants sentenced to non-custodial orders (community supervision or work orders, monetary orders and other non-custodial orders) accounted for 80% (6,163) of defendants proven guilty across all court levels. Within the Magistrates' Court, 6,039 (87%) of defendants proven guilty were issued with a non-custodial order and in the Children's Court, 92 (81%) defendants proven guilty were issued with a non-custodial order (Table 2.1).

For the combined court levels, defendants who had a principal sentence of community supervision or work orders most commonly had a principal federal offence of fraud and deception (78%) or abduction and harassment (11%). Those with a principal sentence of monetary orders most commonly had a principal federal offence of offences against justice procedures (29%) or fraud and deception (27%) (Table 2.9).

STATES AND TERRITORIES

Principal federal offence

Of the 10,828 federal defendants finalised in Australia's criminal courts, more than one-third (34% or 3,695) appeared in New South Wales, over one-fifth (22% or 2,435) appeared in Queensland and almost one-fifth (18% or 1,997) appeared in Victoria (Table 2.4).

For federal defendants, the most prevalent principal offence was fraud and deception in Tasmania (68%), South Australia (56%), New South Wales (35%), Queensland (34%) and Victoria (26%). In Western Australia and the Northern Territory, offences against justice procedures were the most common (40% and 33% respectively), while in the Australian Capital Territory, traffic and vehicle regulatory offences (55%) were the most predominant. This is due largely to parking offences charged under federal legislation in the Australian Capital Territory (see Explanatory Notes, paragraph 49 for more detail) (Table 2.4).

Offence type

Of the 42,037 offences finalised across all court levels, New South Wales had the highest proportion of offences finalised by the courts (30% or 12,796), followed by Queensland (23% or 9,691 offences) and Victoria (17% or 7,329 offences). These states accounted for over two-thirds of all federal offences (Table 2.5).

FEDERAL OFFENCES - ALL COURTS (a)(b), Proportion of federal offences

a) In 2009-10, data for Tasmanian federal defendants and offences were not available.
 b) In 2010-11, excludes Tasmanian federal defendants and offences in the Higher Criminal Courts.

Of the total number of offences finalised by the courts, fraud and deception offences comprised the largest proportion in South Australia (76%), Tasmania (64%), New South Wales (48%), the Northern Territory (40%), Queensland (39%) and Victoria (38%). In Western Australia, offences against justice procedures comprised 57% of all federal offences finalised and in the Australian Capital Territory, traffic and vehicle regulatory offences comprised 43% of all federal offences finalised. This is due largely to parking offences charged under federal legislation in the Australian Capital Territory (see Explanatory Notes, paragraph 49 for more detail) (Table 2.5).

INTRODUCTION

This chapter presents information about the number of federal offences heard in the criminal courts. The offence groupings used are not based on an official standard but are grouped around similar themes of federal offences using Commonwealth Acts and Sections. These groupings may also comprise a range of ANZSOC Subdivisions. A concordance of the Commonwealth legislation and ANZSOC to these groupings can be found at Appendix 4.

FEDERAL OFFENCE TYPE

During 2010–11, there were 42,039 federal offences finalised in the Higher, Magistrates' and Children's Courts. Over two-thirds of federal offences finalised in all court levels (67% or 27,995 offences) were classified as fraud offences, a decrease of 23% from 2009–10 (Table 3.1).

FEDERAL OFFENCES - ALL COURTS (a)(b), Selected federal offence groups - Percentage change from 2009–10

(a) Excludes Tasmanian federal offences in the Higher Criminal Courts.
 (b) In 2009–10, data for Tasmania federal defendants and offences are not available.

Within the Higher Courts, the predominant offence types were: fraud (36%), sexual offences (24%) and financial offences (13%). Of the 38,420 offences in the Magistrates' Courts, 70% were classified as fraud and 10% were communications offences. The highest proportion of offences in the Children's Courts were communications offences (68%) (Table 3.1).

Fraud offences comprised the highest proportion of offences in every jurisdiction except the Australian Capital Territory, ranging from 35% in the Northern Territory up to 88% in South Australia. The largest proportion of communications offences were finalised in Victoria (20%), the largest proportion of financial offences were finalised in New South Wales (10%) and the largest proportion of illegal fishing offences (8%) were finalised in the Northern Territory. Offences relating to Commonwealth officials were proportionally more common in the Australian Capital Territory (12%), with Tasmania having the largest proportion of Commonwealth sexual offences (16%) (Table 3.2).

FINALISATION METHOD

During 2010–11, 75% or 31,387 offences were proven guilty across all courts, while 18% (7,401) were withdrawn by the prosecution. The offence group with the highest proportion proven guilty was fraud offences (73%) (Table 3.3).

SENTENCE OUTCOMES

Information on sentence outcomes in Chapter 3 do not apply the concept of a principal sentence (as applied in Chapter 2). Sentence outcomes presented in this chapter represent all sentences handed down for each offence proven guilty. Where multiple sentence types are handed down for a single offence, these are counted each time. As such the total number of sentence outcomes recorded is greater than the number of offences proven guilty.

Monetary orders were the most common sentence type to be issued overall, comprising 42% (13,251) of all sentence outcomes handed down by the courts. These orders predominantly related to fraud offences (75%) (Table 3.4).

Of the 31,383 sentences across all court levels, 16% (5,066) were custodial orders (Table 3.4). The Higher Courts issued custodial orders in 67% of the sentence outcomes, compared with 11% in the Magistrates' and Children's Courts (Table 3.6 and 3.8).

Fraud offences comprised 62% (3,121) of all custodial orders, followed by financial offences (10%) and Commonwealth sexual offences and communications offences (both 8%) for all court levels (Table 3.4).

The majority (72%) of migration and people smuggling offences resulted in a custodial order. Other offence groups with high proportions of custodial orders were: security offences (65%), drug offences (60%) and justice offences (59%) (Table 3.4).

EXPLANATORY NOTES

INTRODUCTION

1 This publication presents information on the characteristics of federal defendants dealt with by Australian state and territory criminal courts. This includes information on the offences and sentences associated with those defendants.

2 The information relates to the criminal jurisdiction of the Higher (Supreme and Intermediate), Magistrates' and Children's Courts in each state and territory. The criminal jurisdiction of the courts includes the trial and sentencing of persons and organisations charged with criminal offences in Australia.

3 Federal defendants are a subset of all criminal courts defendants. Information relating to all defendants finalised in the criminal courts is available in the publication Criminal Courts, Australia (cat. no. 4513.0).

DATA SOURCE

4 These statistics are derived from data about each federal defendant provided to the ABS by the state and territory agencies responsible for courts administration. The ABS receives data directly from these agencies in all states and territories except for Queensland (where data are supplied via the Office of Economic and Statistical Research), and New South Wales (where data are supplied via the Bureau of Crime Statistics and Research). Data for Tasmanian Higher Criminal Courts are not available for this publication.

5 In order to ensure consistency between the states and territories, the statistics have been compiled according to national standards and classifications. Standardisation of data requires the states and territories to provide data coded according to national classifications and standards.

SCOPE

6 The scope of the statistics in this publication includes all defendants with at least one Commonwealth legislative offence that has been finalised in the Higher, Magistrates' or Children's Courts. Defendants with charges against both Commonwealth legislation and State and Territory legislation are still within scope of the collection, however only federal offences are counted for the purposes of this publication.

7 The federal defendants collection is limited to defendants finalised, that is a person or organisation for whom all charges have been formally completed so that the defendant ceases to be an item of work to be dealt with by the court.

8 The geographic definition of Australia, as used by the ABS, includes 'Other Territories'. However, these territories are generally out of scope for ABS collections. For the federal defendants data, defendant cases heard in the criminal courts on Cocos (Keeling) Islands and Christmas Island are included in the counts for Western Australia, where applicable. Defendants finalised in Jervis Bay Territory are not included in any counts in this publication.

Higher Courts

9 Data includes defendants finalised in the original jurisdiction of the Supreme and Intermediate Criminal Courts. Children treated as adults by the courts are included in the Higher Courts collection.

Magistrates' Courts

10 Data includes defendants finalised in the original jurisdiction of the Magistrates' Criminal Courts. Children treated as adults by the courts are included in the Magistrates' Courts collection.

Magistrates' Courts continued	11 From 2009–10, data for New South Wales Magistrates' Courts are based on finalised defendants, resulting in slightly lower population counts to 2008–09. Prior to this reference period, data for New South Wales Magistrates' Courts were based on finalised appearances. Where charges were finalised at different court appearances in the same case for a defendant in New South Wales, these were counted as finalised defendants at each appearance rather than being aggregated as a single finalised defendant at the latest charge finalisation date.
Children's Courts	12 Data includes defendants finalised in the original jurisdiction of the Children's Criminal Courts. Prior to 2009–10, data for New South Wales Children's Courts were based on finalised appearances (as described in Magistrates' Courts above). 13 In all states and territories, children aged under 10 years cannot be charged with a criminal offence. The maximum age that defendants are considered a child or juvenile is under the age of 18 years in all states and territories, except Queensland. In Queensland, defendants are considered adults if aged 17 years and over at the time the offence was committed.
Exclusions	14 The Higher, Magistrates' and Children's Courts data exclude cases heard in the criminal jurisdiction of the courts which do not require the adjudication of charges (e.g. bail reviews and applications to amend sentences or penalties). Also excluded are breach of bail or parole cases, appeal cases, tribunal matters and defendants for whom a bench warrant is issued but not executed. 15 The Magistrates' and Children's Courts data exclude finalisations in specialist courts, such as Drug Courts, Electronic Courts, Fine Recovery Units, Family Violence Courts and Indigenous Courts. Defendants referred to these specialist courts from mainstream courts will be included in the mainstream Court data as transfers. 16 The Australian Road Rules are maintained by the National Transport Commission but only apply if they are adopted in each state and territory through local legislation. In the Northern Territory, offences against the Australian Road Rules are identified as federal offences. To ensure consistency across all states and territories, the Australian Road Rules and their state/territory enacting legislation were excluded from the scope of the federal defendants collection.
REFERENCE PERIOD	17 The statistics in this collection relate to federal defendants who had criminal cases finalised within the Higher, Magistrates' and Children's Courts during the reference period 1 July 2010 to 30 June 2011.
CLASSIFICATIONS	18 The national classifications used to collect and produce data on federal defendants are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Australian and New Zealand Standard Offence Classification (ANZSOC) (refer to Appendix 2); ■ Method of finalisation (refer to Appendix 1); and ■ Sentence type (refer to Appendix 3). 19 The classifications provide a framework for classifying criminal court information for statistical purposes, promoting data that are compiled on a consistent basis across states and territories. The classifications have a hierarchical structure and therefore allow for different levels of detail to be recorded depending on the level of detail in the source information. Associated with each classification are coding rules which ensure that the counting of information is consistent across states and territories.
Australian and New Zealand Standard Offence Classification (ANZSOC)	20 The offence categories used for 2010–11 federal defendants statistics in this publication are classified to the Australian and New Zealand Standard Offence Classification (ANZSOC) (cat. no. 1234.0). ANZSOC provides a national framework for classifying offences for statistical purposes. The first release of this classification was

Classification (ANZSOC)

Australian Standard Offence Classification 1997 (cat. no. 1234.0) (ASOC97). In 2008 the ABS released the second edition of the Australian Standard Offence Classification (ASOC08), which reflected changes that have occurred in criminal legislation since the first edition was released, as well as satisfying emerging user requirements for offence data. The ASOC was renamed ANZSOC in July 2011 to reflect its adoption in New Zealand. ANZSOC contains the same offence details and classification as ASOC and therefore there are no impacts on the offence data in this publication.

National Offence Index (NOI)

21 The National Offence Index (NOI) is a ranking of all ANZSOC Groups and supplementary ANZSOC codes (ANZSOC Divisions and/or ANZSOC Subdivisions). This ranking is based on the concept of seriousness of offence, with a ranking of 1 relating to the ANZSOC code containing the most serious offence.

22 The NOI was revised in 2009 to accommodate the changes made to the ASOC08, and supersedes the first version of NOI which was released in 2002. Principal federal offence information in this publication, are based on the 2009 edition of the NOI.

23 The assumptions and rules underpinning the NOI, in particular defining 'offence seriousness' and the impact of this definition on the ranking of offences, need to be considered when using the principal federal offence data in this publication. However, it is important to note that these technical issues are only of practical significance where a choice must be made between output categories. For example, although some sexual assault and related offences are ranked ahead of illicit drug and related offences, they are unlikely to co-occur. For more information see National Offence Index, 2009, (cat. no. 1234.0.55.001).

Method of Finalisation

24 This classification categorises how an offence and defendant has been finalised by a court. Main categories include adjudications, non-adjudications and transfers. For more information see Appendix 1 and paragraph 31.

Sentence Type

25 This classification is used to assign a sentence to offences that are proven guilty. It is also used to determine a principal sentence for a defendant who has been proven guilty. For more information see Appendix 3 and paragraphs 43–46.

Federal Offence Group

26 The Federal Offence Group classifies the various Commonwealth Acts and Sections into broad categories or themes by the type of legislation. For more information see Appendix 4.

COUNTING METHODOLOGY

Finalised defendant

27 The principal counting unit for the federal defendants collection is a finalised defendant. A defendant is a person or organisation against whom one or more criminal charges have been laid and which are heard together as the one unit of work by a court at a particular level. It should be noted that the collection does not enumerate unique persons or organisations. If a person or organisation is a defendant in a number of criminal cases dealt with and finalised separately within the courts during the reference period, this person or organisation will be counted more than once within that reference period.

28 Prior to 2010–11 defendants were counted for each case they had finalised during the reference period, irrespective of whether multiple cases were finalised on the same day at the same hearing. For the first time in this issue, a further step is taken when a defendant has more than one case in the reference period. When this occurs a defendant is created by merging defendant records.

29 If the defendant has more than one case which is finalised on the same day and at the same hearing, this is counted as one defendant case, irrespective of the dates of initiation. This is called merging defendant records.

30 This counting rule is now consistent with the Criminal Courts collection.

METHOD OF FINALISATION

31 Method of finalisation describes how a criminal charge is concluded by a criminal court level. For the purposes of the federal defendants collection, one method of finalisation is applied to each offence and each defendant within the Higher, Magistrates' and Children's Courts.

TRANSFERS BETWEEN HIGHER COURT LEVELS

32 Defendants who transfer from one Higher Court level to another Higher Court level are considered as initiated only once (in the level they first entered) and finalised only once (from the level they finally left).

TRANSFERS BETWEEN MAGISTRATES' AND HIGHER COURT LEVELS

33 Defendants who transfer from the Magistrates' Court level to the Higher Court level (or vice versa) are considered as initiated twice (once in each of these levels) and finalised twice (once in each level). Defendants may have some charges finalised in the Magistrates' Courts whilst other charges are committed to the Higher Courts.

TRANSFERS BETWEEN CHILDREN'S COURTS AND MAGISTRATES' OR HIGHER COURT LEVELS

34 Defendants who transfer between the Children's Courts and the Magistrates' or Higher Courts (or vice versa) are considered to be initiated twice (once in each court level) and finalised twice (once in each court level).

HIGHER COURTS

35 Where a defendant finalised in a Higher Court has multiple charges and these have different methods of finalisation, the defendant method of finalisation code is determined by the following order of precedence:

- defendant deceased
- unfit to plead
- not guilty by reason of mental illness/condition
- guilty finding by court
- charge proven n.f.d.
- guilty plea by defendant
- acquitted by court
- charge unproven n.f.d.
- charge unproven n.e.c.
- transfer from a Higher Court to a Magistrates' Court
- other transfer between court levels n.e.c.
- transfer to non-court agency
- withdrawn by the prosecution
- other non-adjudicated finalisation n.e.c.
- unknown/not stated.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS

36 Where a defendant finalised in a Magistrates' Court has multiple charges and these have different methods of finalisation, the defendant method of finalisation code is determined by the following order of precedence:

- defendant deceased
- unfit to plead
- not guilty by reason of mental illness/condition
- guilty finding by court
- charge proven n.f.d.
- guilty plea by defendant
- guilty ex-parte
- acquitted by court

- charge unproven n.f.d.
- no case to answer at committal
- charge unproven n.e.c.
- committed for trial
- transfer from a Magistrates' Court to a Higher Court n.f.d.
- committed for sentence
- transfer from a Magistrates' Court to a Higher Court n.e.c.
- other transfer between court levels n.e.c.
- transfer to non-court agency
- withdrawn by the prosecution
- other non-adjudicated finalisation n.e.c.
- unknown/not stated.

CHILDREN'S COURTS

37 Where a defendant finalised in a Children's Court has multiple charges and these have different methods of finalisation, the defendant method of finalisation code is determined by the following order of precedence:

- defendant deceased
- unfit to plead
- not guilty by reason of mental illness/condition
- guilty finding by court
- charge proven n.f.d.
- guilty plea by defendant
- guilty ex-parte
- acquitted by court
- charge unproven n.f.d.
- no case to answer at committal
- charge unproven n.e.c.
- committed for trial
- transfer from a Children's Court to a Higher court n.f.d.
- committed for sentence
- transfer from a Children's Court to a Higher court n.e.c.
- transfer from a Children's Court to a Magistrates' Court
- other transfer between court levels n.e.c.
- transfer to non-court agency
- withdrawn by the prosecution
- other non-adjudicated finalisation n.e.c.
- unknown/not stated.

PRINCIPAL FEDERAL OFFENCE

38 Where a finalised defendant has multiple charges the principal federal offence is determined by:

- the type of finalisation and/or
- the highest ranked ANZSOC using the NOI.

39 The type of finalisation is considered in the following order:

- defendant deceased, unfit to plead, or not guilty by reason of mental illness
- charges proven
- charges not proven
- transfer of charges
- charges withdrawn
- other non-adjudicated finalisation
- unknown/not stated.

40 Where a defendant has a single charge within the type of finalisation (e.g. charges proven, charges not proven, transfer of charges etc.), the principal federal offence is the relevant ANZSOC code (refer to paragraph 20) associated with that charge.

41 Where a defendant has multiple charges, each with the same type of finalisation, for example, the defendant has been found guilty of all charges, the NOI is used to determine the principal federal offence. The principal federal offence is determined as the charge with the highest ranked ANZSOC Group in the NOI. Where the defendant has an offence that is unable to be determined via the NOI (due to missing offence information or the offence is mapped to an ANZSOC code that is not included in the NOI), and this offence cannot be determined as more or less serious than another offence within the same type of finalisation, the principal federal offence is coded to 'not able to be determined'. For more information about the NOI refer to paragraphs 21–23.

42 There is presently no similar hierarchy for classification of the detailed Act and Section level information from which the federal offence types are derived. As such, whilst defendant level information in this publication can be presented by ANZSOC, there is no way of representing defendants by a single federal category type. Data presented by federal offence group are therefore only available at the offence level.

PRINCIPAL SENTENCE

43 Federal defendants who are proven guilty have sentence information reported against them at the offence level. This enables the presentation of two views of sentencing data: the sentence for an offence and the principal sentence for the defendant.

44 A defendant can receive a single sentence for a single offence proven guilty, a single sentence for multiple offences proven guilty, multiple sentences for multiple offences proven guilty and/or multiple sentences assigned to the one offence proven guilty. Where a defendant has multiple sentences, the principal sentence is selected by applying the hierarchy of the Sentence Type Classification (see Appendix 3). This is usually, though not necessarily, the sentence associated with the principal federal offence.

45 It should be noted that not all sentence types are available to magistrates and judges in all jurisdictions. For example, in the Higher Courts, all states and territories with the exception of Western Australia have provision for the use of partially suspended imprisonment sentences. Whether a sentencing option is available in a particular state/territory and court level should be considered when making comparisons.

46 Defendants with a method of finalisation of 'not guilty by reason of mental illness/condition' (an acquitted outcome) may have a specific kind of sentence or order imposed on them by the court. However, these sentences are not within the scope of this collection as the definition of principal sentence, for the purpose of this collection, is that it only applies to defendants with a method of finalisation of proven guilty.

Offence

OFFENCES

47 The secondary counting unit for the federal defendants collection is the offence. Rather than apply an order of precedence to the offences for each defendant case to enable the defendant to be represented by one principal federal offence (as in Chapter 2), the federal defendants collection allows for the counting of all offences finalised. These counts are presented in both Chapters 2 and 3. The count of offences will be the same or higher than the count for defendants.

OFFENCE SENTENCES

48 The third counting unit for the federal defendants collection is offence sentences. This is an extension of the offence counting unit for offences that are proven guilty. A proven guilty offence may have more than one sentence type. When this occurs the offence will be counted for each sentence type handed down.

STATE / TERRITORY SPECIFIC ISSUES	49 The Australian Capital Territory has a high proportion of defendants with a principal federal offence of traffic offences (55%). This is due to parking offences charged under the Australian National University Parking and Traffic Statute 2007.
COMPARISONS TO OTHER ABS DATA Criminal Courts Collection	50 Federal defendants are a subset of all criminal courts defendants. Information relating to all defendants finalised in the criminal courts is available in the publication Criminal Courts, Australia (cat. no. 4513.0). However, as a federal defendant may also be charged with state or territory offences, the difference between all finalised defendants in the criminal courts and finalised federal defendants does not equal the count of defendants charged with state or territory offences.
COMPARISONS TO NON-ABS SOURCES	51 Due to differing scope and counting rules the data in this publication may not be comparable to data published in other national and state/territory publications.
CONFIDENTIALITY OF TABULAR DATA	52 Table cells containing small values have been randomly adjusted to avoid releasing confidential information. Due to this randomisation process, totals may vary slightly across tables.

GLOSSARY

Abduction, harassment and other offences against the person	Acts intended to threaten or harass, or acts that unlawfully deprive another person of their freedom of movement, that are against that person's will or against the will of any parent, guardian or other person having lawful custody or care of that person. This is a Division of ANZSOC which includes the following Subdivisions: abduction and kidnapping (051), deprivation of liberty/false imprisonment (052) and harassment and threatening behaviour (053).
Acquitted	A grouping of outcomes of criminal proceedings in which a court accepts that a charge is unproven. These outcomes are: acquitted by court, not guilty by reason of mental illness/condition, no case to answer at committal, charges unproven not further defined and charges unproven not elsewhere classified.
Acts intended to cause injury	Acts, excluding attempted murder and those resulting in death, which are intended to cause non-fatal injury or harm to another person and where there is no sexual or acquisitive element. This is a Division of ANZSOC which includes the following Subdivisions: assault (021) and other acts intended to cause injury (029).
Adjudicated finalisation	A method of finalisation based on a judgement or decision by the court as to whether or not the defendant is guilty of the charge(s) laid against them.
Adjudicated outcomes	The outcomes of the judgement or decision by the court as to whether or not the defendant is guilty of the charge(s) laid against them. These outcomes include: acquitted, guilty finding, guilty plea and guilty ex-parte.
Age	A defendant's age is the time elapsed (in years) between a defendant's date of birth and the date of finalisation of the defendant's case.
Assault	The direct (and immediate/confrontational) infliction of force, injury or violence upon a person or persons or the direct (and immediate/confrontational) threat of force, injury or violence where there is an apprehension that the threat could be enacted. This is a Subdivision of ANZSOC which includes the following Groups: serious assault resulting in injury (0211), serious assault not resulting in injury (0212) and common assault (0213).
Australian and New Zealand Standard Offence Classification (ANZSOC)	The third edition of the Australian and New Zealand Standard Offence (ANZSOC) has been developed for use within Australia and in New Zealand for the production and analysis of crime and justice statistics. It replaces the second edition of the Australian Standard Offence Classification (ASOC) and incorporates a title change from ASOC to ANZSOC and corrects some minor typographical errors only. The classification content and structure, which was updated in the second edition of ASOC (following the review of the first edition of ASOC released in 1997) remains unchanged. The revised title ANZSOC reflects the international use of the framework to classify criminal behaviour and highlights the collaborative work occurring between Australia and New Zealand. The title change from ASOC to ANZSOC is also in accordance with the agreed policy between the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) and Statistics New Zealand to harmonise classifications where possible. This edition of ANZSOC is used to classify offence data in this publication. The Australian and New Zealand Standard Offence Classification (cat. no. 1234.0) is available from the Australian Bureau of Statistics website < http://www.abs.gov.au >.

Charged	In this publication, the term charged refers to those defendants who were adjudicated i.e. finalised via a plea of guilty or a decision by the court as to their guilt or otherwise of the final charge(s) laid against them.
Children's Court	The Children's Court is primarily a Court of Summary Jurisdiction, to hear and determine criminal charges against persons generally aged less than 18 years. The Children's Court may also determine some minor indictable offences and conduct committal proceedings in relation to young people who have been charged with major indictable offences.

Court levels include Court of Summary Jurisdiction, Intermediate Court and Supreme Court. The names assigned to each of these court levels varies across Australia.
Court of Summary Jurisdiction	A lower court level (also referred to as Magistrates' Court, Local Court or Court of Petty Sessions) which deals with relatively less serious charges and has the most limited legal powers of all the state and territory court levels. A Court of Summary Jurisdiction is presided over by a magistrate and has jurisdiction to try and sentence matters relating to summary offences. Under some circumstances, this court level may also deal with less serious indictable offences known as 'minor indictable' or 'triable either way' offences. Courts of Summary Jurisdiction are also responsible for conducting preliminary (committal) hearings for indictable offences.
Custodial orders	Sentences imposed on a defendant requiring a person to have restricted liberty for a specified period of time either through detainment in an institution/home or being subject to regular supervision while residing in the community. The court may set aside the order subject to the person being of good behaviour. Includes: custody in a correctional institution, custody in the community and fully suspended sentence.

For defendants who are committed from a Magistrates' Court to a higher criminal court, date of committal is used for the date of initiation. For defendants who have any other method of initiation, including direct presentment to a higher court by ex-officio, date of registration for that court level is used as the date of initiation. Where there are multiple dates of initiation for charges for a defendant, the earliest date is used.

The nature of this response indicates whether or not the defendant intends to contest that charge. If the defendant does not enter a plea, this is treated by the court as if the defendant had pleaded not guilty.
Principal federal offence	The offence category, based on ANZSOC, that describes the most serious offence type associated with a finalised federal defendant. Supreme Court	A Higher Court level which deals with the most serious criminal charges and has the greatest legal powers of all the state and territory court levels. A Supreme Court is presided over by a judge, and has jurisdiction to hear trial and sentence matters relating to all indictable offences. In states which have an Intermediate Court, the Supreme Court is usually reserved to deal with the most serious indictable offences, such as murder.

For all transfers, except those between Higher Court levels, this process is regarded as a method of finalisation for the court level ordering the transfer and a method of initiation for the court level to which the defendant's charge(s) were transferred. Defendants who transfer from one Higher Court level to another will be considered as initiated only once (in the level they first entered) and finalised only once (from the level they finally left).
Triable either way offence	An indictable offence which a defendant can elect to have heard either in a Court of Summary Jurisdiction before a magistrate or in a Higher Court before a judge and jury.
Trial	The examination of, and decision on, a matter of law or fact by a court. Where a defendant enters a not guilty plea or other defended plea in the committal proceedings, they are committed to a Higher Court for trial. In the Higher Courts, trials are usually conducted before a judge and jury whereby the judge rules on questions of law and the jury is responsible for determining whether or not the defendant is guilty. Some states and territories also allow for a trial before a judge alone in the Higher Courts.
Unfit to plead	An outcome of court proceedings when it has been determined that a defendant's mental status is such that he/she is unfit to plead in relation to the charge(s) against him/her. For the purposes of this collection, this process is regarded as a non-adjudicated method of finalisation.
Unlawful entry with intent/burglary, break and enter	The unlawful entry of a structure with the intent to commit an offence, where the entry is either forced or unforced (ANZSOC Division 7). A structure is defined as a building that is contained by walls and can be secured in some form. This includes a dwelling (e.g. house, flat, caravan), office, bank, shop, factory, school and church. This division is not further disaggregated.
