INTRODUCTION.

The following tables contain particulars of the Vital Statistics of the Commonwealth for the year 1909. The Bulletins previously published (Nos. 15, 16, 17, and 18) gave similar information in regard to the four quarters of the year, and contained a few tables (numbered in those bulletins as Nos. 1, 2, 6, 12, 13, and 17), which gave particulars for each month. This information has been given in the present issue only for the year.

An amended Act relating to the Registration of Births, Deaths, and Marriages having come into force in South Australia from the beginning of 1908, those tables which for the year 1907 had to be given exclusive of the figures for South Australia contain now complete particulars for the whole of the Commonwealth. In Table No. 19 Western Australian figures had again to be omitted. All the tables relating to the issue of deceased persons (Nos. 38, 39, 40, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, and 51), are given exclusive of the figures for Tasmania, as under the Registration Act at present in force in that State particulars regarding previous issue and issue of deceased persons are not required to be furnished to the Registrars.

The mean population of the States and of the Commonwealth for the year 1909—on which the rates in Tables Nos. 53 and 54 are worked out—was as follows :—

State.	Males.	Females.	Total.
New South Wales ... ..	854,853	751,010	1,605,863
Victoria ... ..	643,667	641,041	1,284,708
Queensland ... ..	307,848	257,302	565,150
South Australia ... ..	219,344	191,338	410,682

Tasmania ... ..	94,582	89,581	184,163
Commonwealth ... ..	2,277,023	2,044,488	4,321,511

For purposes of reference the population, as estimated on 31st December, 1909, is here also shewn:—

While the present Bulletin is not the place for a dissection of its tables (which will be found in the fourth issue of the Official Year-book of the Commonwealth), a few introductory remarks in regard to some of the tables may, nevertheless, be given.

BIRTHS.

The total number of births registered in the Commonwealth in the year 1909 was 114,071, the highest number ever attained. Of these births, 111,779 were single births, 2,251 were twins, and 41 were triplets. The total number of cases of twins was 1,128, 5 children being still-born; and of triplets, 14, one child being still-born. The total number of mothers was, therefore, 112,921; the proportion of mothers of twins being one in every 100, and of mothers of triplets, one in every 8,066 of total mothers. Of the single births, 6,756, and of the twins, 104, were illegitimate, giving a total of 6,860 illegitimate, as compared with 107,211 legitimate births. Particulars of the distribution of these births amongst the six States and their subdivisions will be found in Tables Nos. 1 and 2.

Of the total births, 4,226, viz.:—2,201 legitimate, and 1,925 illegitimate, took place in public institutions; the proportion in the case of the illegitimate births being nearly 30 per cent. of the total.

Although lower in 1909 than in 1907, the birth-rate shows a gradual improvement since the year 1903, when it was as low as 25·23 per 1,000 of the mean population. In 1904 it was 26·33; in 1905, 26·12; in 1906, 26·41; in 1907, 26·55; in 1908, 26·35; and in 1909, 26·40 per 1,000. The rates for the individual States are shewn for each of the years 1901 to 1909 in Population and Vital Statistics Bulletin No. 19, Table No. 15.

The tables shewing the relative ages of the parents in cases of single births reveal some peculiar features. It appears that 869 of the fathers were under the age of 21, two being returned as aged 16, with wives aged 16 and 17 years respectively. The largest number of fathers are found in each of the years from 26 to 38 inclusive; after the latter age the numbers gradually diminish, and only 108 are returned as being 65 years and upwards; three of whom are given as 80 years and more. In the case of the mothers of legitimate children, the numbers increase fairly regularly until the maximum is reached at age 24. After the age of 28 a gradual diminution takes place, the number of mothers of 45 years and upwards being 671; seven of whom are stated to be 50 years and more. As might be expected, the number of mothers under 21 is large, numbering 6,560. Of this number, three mothers are returned as being 14 years old, and 17 are returned as being 15. Of mothers of illegitimate children, two were only 12 years old, 9 were 14; and 61 were 15. The total number less than 21 years old was 2,446, and the number 45 years old and upwards, 17. The maximum occurs at age 20.

Of mothers of twins, one was only 16 years old, the total under 21 years being 40. The increase in the numbers is not very regular, but the largest numbers occur from ages 24 to 39 inclusive; the maximum being at 30. The number of mothers of triplets is too small to allow of any similar statements.

The tables showing the relative birthplaces of the parents and the occupations of the fathers do not call for any particular comment.

The number of illegitimate births represents 6·01 per cent. of the total births for the year, the rate being the same as in 1903, and lower than in any of the intervening years. There is a considerable difference in the rates for the various States, the figures ranging from 3·95 per cent. in Western Australia to 7·05 per cent. in Queensland.

The masculinity of the births (legitimate and illegitimate), i.e., the number of male to each 100 female births, for the year was 105·20, ranging from 104·19 in Victoria to 107·80 in South Australia. The masculinity of illegitimate births was slightly higher, being 106·25, the figures—which on account of the smallness of numbers are of no great value—ranging from 102·16 in Victoria to 129·14 in Western Australia.

Tables No. 10 to 14 deal with the question of age, duration of marriage and issue. In Table No. 10 particulars are shewn regarding 104,742 mothers of legitimate children, the mothers being, for convenience sake, divided into five-year groups according to age. The table shews that mothers under 20 years of age had an average of 1.19 children; mothers of ages 20 to 24, an average of 1.77; mothers of ages 25 to 29, an average of 2.67; mothers of 30 to 34, an average of 3.85; mothers of 35 to 39, an average of 5.43; mothers of 40 to 44, an average of 7.12; and mothers of 45 years and upwards, an average of 8.75 children. The average number of children of mothers of all ages was 3.42, and the duration of marriage ranged up to 33 years. There was one case of a mother aged over 45 having 19 children in 30 years. One family of 18, and three families of 17 children each rank next in number.

Tables No. 12 to 14, which deal with the ages of mothers and the interval between marriage and first birth, reveal the fact that nearly one-third of the first births registered during 1909 were due to ante-nuptial conception. Amongst mothers of the younger age-groups the proportion is, however, much higher.

MARRIAGES.

The total number of marriages celebrated in the Commonwealth during 1909 was 33,775, equivalent to a rate of 7.82 per 1,000 of mean population. The number of marriages was in excess of that of any previous year, and the rate was the highest since 1888, when it had been 7.98 per 1,000. Amongst the States the marriage rate for 1909 varied between a minimum of 7.34 per 1,000 in Victoria and a maximum of 8.11 per 1,000 in New South Wales and Tasmania. Deducting 826 marriages celebrated by registrars, and 12 cases where the denomination of the officiating minister was not stated, there remain 32,937 marriages celebrated according to the rites of one or the other of 44 different denominations. The numbers celebrated in the various churches are not by any means proportionate to the number of adherents of these churches, as ascertained at the last census, but it will suffice to state that the Church of England celebrated 10,432; the Roman Catholic Church, 5,759; the Methodist Church, 5,370; the Presbyterian Church of Australia, 4,365; the Congregational Church, 3,324; and the Baptist Church, 1,149 marriages, while none of the remaining denominations reached 1,000.

Consideration of the tables showing ages and conjugal condition of brides and bridegrooms shews that the ages of bachelors ranged from 15 to 87 years, with a maximum at 24, and the ages of widowers from 21 to 89 years. The ages of spinsters ranged from 13 to 69 years. The maximum number of brides were married at 21, the figures shewn for that year (3,711) being, however, no doubt to some extent overstated. Widows were married at ages ranging from 19 to 77.

Out of the total number of 33,775 marriages, 30,137 were celebrated between bachelors and spinsters; 1,124 between bachelors and widows; 165 between bachelors and divorcées; 1,524 between widowers and spinsters; 636 between widowers and widows; 39 between widowers and divorcées; 125 between divorcées and spinsters; 18 between divorcées and widows; and 7 between parties who had both passed through the Divorce Court.

The tables showing the relative ages of bridegrooms and brides prove that by far the largest number of marriages is celebrated between parties of suitable ages, where the bridegroom is either of the same age or a little older than the bride, but there are many exceptions to this rule. It will suffice to say here that of the bridegrooms one was 15 years old, five were 16, 17 were 17, 141 were 18, 343 were 19, and 712 were 20. Of the brides, one was 13, 12 were 14, 54 were 15, 267 were 16, and 774 were 17.

The birthplaces of the contracting parties are not shewn for Western Australia. Of the remaining 31,778 marriages by far the largest number was celebrated, as might be expected, between natives of the Commonwealth States; next in order coming natives of England, Ireland, Scotland, and New Zealand. Marriages of natives of the countries mentioned and of Wales account for 30,886 out of 31,778 bridegrooms, and for 31,450 out of 31,778 brides.

The question has been asked if all classes of the population marry at similar ages, and in order to help in the elucidation of this question the ages of the 33,775 bridegrooms who were married in 1909 have been tabulated in age-groups. But in working out the average ages of the classes the figures shew very similar results, and all that can be said is that the ages of bridegrooms in the Transport and Communication and in the Industrial Classes are a little lower than those in the other classes, and the ages in Class VII., which includes chiefly persons of independent means, are naturally highest of all. Similar results were obtained in 1907 and 1908. Better results will no doubt be obtained when the figures for more than three years are available, and the average age can be ascertained for each order. The figures for three years are too small to allow of this being done with any degree of accuracy.

The total number of mark signatures, 432—viz., 221 males and 211 females—is the lowest yet experienced, and represents a percentage of 0.65 for the bridegrooms and of 0.62 for the brides, or of 0.64 for both combined. The percentages for the individual States range from 0.22 in Victoria to 2.07 in Tasmania.

DEATHS.

The deaths registered in the Commonwealth during the year 1909 numbered 44,172—viz., 25,514 male and 18,658 female. This is equivalent to a rate of 10.22 per 1,000 of mean population—viz., 11.20 per 1,000 males and 9.13 per 1,000 females. The rate of 10.22 is the lowest ever experienced in Australia, the next lowest rates having been 10.83 in 1905, 10.85 in 1906, 10.90 in 1907, and 10.97 in 1908. The male death rate varied from 9.76 per 1,000 in South Australia to 12.54 per 1,000 in Victoria; the female death rate from 8.20 in Queensland to 9.93 in Victoria; and the total death rate from 9.37 in South Australia to 11.24 in Victoria.

The "Index of Mortality," i.e., the death rate adjusted to a standard population—in this case the population of Sweden as ascertained at the census of 1890, and divided into five age groups—has been calculated for each of the States and for the Commonwealth as a whole, and is shewn in Table No. 54. To shew how the age constitution of a country affects its death rate, the crude death rate and the index of mortality are here shewn side by side for the four years 1906 to 1909:—

State.	Crude Death Rate, per 1,000.				Index of Mortality, per 1,000.

It will be seen that while South Australia retains the lowest index, Victoria shows more favorably than is the case in the crude rates, and is surpassed by Queensland and Western Australia.

Of the total number of deaths registered, those of 7,996 males and of 3,943 females, or a total of 11,939, considerably more than one-fourth of the grand total, took place in public institutions. The proportion is highest in Queensland and Western Australia and lowest in Tasmania, a fact presumably due to the existence of a larger number of well-equipped district hospitals in some of the States as compared with the others.

Deaths of children under one year numbered 8,163, viz., 4,604 males and 3,559 females, and of children under five years, 10,713, viz., 5,927 males and 4,786 females. The deaths of children under one year were less than in 1908, shewing a decrease in every State, except New South Wales and Queensland. The rate of infantile mortality, i.e., the number of deaths under one year per thousand births for the Commonwealth was 71.56, as compared with 77.78 for 1908, 81.06 for 1907 and 83.26 for 1906, the rates for the States ranging from 61.04 in South Australia to 78.01 in Western Australia. Deaths at single ages are shewn in detail for each State, and a special table is added giving the particulars recorded of the deaths of 20 centenarians (8 males and 12 females) recorded during the year. It will be seen that one of these is stated to have reached the age of 110 years.

Causes of Death.—The causes of death have been tabulated for each State and for the Commonwealth, according to the "Nomenclature of Diseases and Causes of Death," as revised and adopted in 1900 by the International Commission, and published by Dr. Jacques Bertillon, Chef des Travaux Statistiques de la ville de Paris. This classification arranges the causes of death under 179 different headings, grouped into 14 classes, and in an abridged form, shewn in Table 52, under 35 headings. This nomenclature was revised by an International Commission, which was convened by the French Government, and met in Paris, in July, 1909. The revised classification slightly increases the number of headings, and re-arranges the grouping of a number of diseases. It is proposed to use this revised classification in the tabulation of the Vital Statistics of the Commonwealth for the year 1910.

It will suffice here to take out a few of the more important diseases, and to let the tables speak for themselves as to the others. The causes are tabulated in their totals, both in the complete and in the abridged classification for each State and for the Commonwealth as a whole, while the combinations of causes and ages, causes and birthplaces, and causes and occupations, are only shewn for the Commonwealth as a whole. This limitation was necessary, if the size of the present Bulletin was not to become unduly enlarged. Special tables are appended dealing in detail with puerperal diseases, with tubercular diseases, and with cancer.

Deaths from typhoid fever numbered 661, viz., 406 males and 255 females, and deaths from intermittent fever and malarial cachexia 59 (of which 29 were in Queensland and 22 in the Northern Territory). Measles accounted for 15 male and 16 female deaths, and call for no special remark, nor does scarlet fever. The number of deaths from whooping cough was 257, as compared with 249 in 1908, and the abnormally large number of 1,070 in 1907. Diphtheria and croup accounted for 435 deaths, and influenza for 326. The latter number, which was larger in 1907 than in several previous years, has appreciably diminished in 1908 and 1909. Tubercular diseases were responsible for a total of 3,721 deaths, viz., 2,065 males and 1,656 females. Of these deaths 3,119 were due to tuberculosis of the lungs, 220 to tuberculosis of the meninges, and 382 to other forms of tuberculosis. The figures shew an excess of female deaths at ages up to 35, with a corresponding excess of male deaths at higher ages. The tables shew that of 3,721 deaths, 2,671 were those of natives of the Commonwealth. Of the remaining 1,050 cases the length of residence in the Commonwealth was stated in 893 instances, and it appears that of these 893 there were 30 who had resided in the Commonwealth for less than one year; 29 for one year; 19 for two years; 14 for three years; 6 for four years; 36 for periods ranging from five to nine years; 44 for periods ranging from ten to fourteen, and 57 from fifteen to nineteen years; while 658, viz., 483 males and 175 females were residents of the Commonwealth for twenty years and upwards.

Cancer and other malignant tumours caused 3,112 deaths, viz., 1,626 males and 1,486 females. The ages of those who died from cancer show a very wide range, including 34 deaths of young people under 15 years of age, and 54 of people of 85 years and upwards. Of the total deaths, those of 296 males and 27 females were ascribed to cancer of the mouth; those of 705 males and 459 females to cancer of the stomach and liver; those of 194 males and 173 females to cancer of the peritonaeum, the intestines, and the rectum; 336 deaths were due to cancer of the female genital organs, and 201 to cancer of the breast; the deaths of 58 males and 23 females were caused by cancer of the skin; and those of 373 males and 267 females by cancer of other organs.

Of 1,626 males who died of cancer, 71 belonged to the professional, 46 to the domestic, and 169 to the mercantile class, while 108 were engaged in transport and communication. The manufacturing class, properly so-called, claimed 165 deaths, and building and construction 103, while 330 were those of indefinitely described industrial workers. The deaths included 262 belonging to the agricultural, and 72 belonging to the pastoral class, 125 men working in mines and quarries, and 16 other primary producers. The deaths of persons of independent means numbered 66, those of dependents 50, while of 43 persons the occupation was not stated.

Simple meningitis caused 616 deaths, congestion, haemorrhage, and softening of the brain 1,665, and organic heart disease, 3,940, surpassing even tubercular diseases in the order of fatality. Acute bronchitis claimed 422 victims, chronic bronchitis 897, and pneumonia 1,752.

Diarrhoea and enteritis of children under two years of age caused 2,803 deaths, viz., those of 1,544 males, and of 1,259 females. Of these deaths, 1,200 occurred in New South Wales, 716 in Victoria, 392 in Queensland, 172 in South Australia, 264 in Western Australia, and 59 in Tasmania. The figures are sensibly below those for 1908, in which year the exceptional heat of January had increased the total to 3,236.

Nephritis and Bright's disease was responsible for the deaths of 1,076 males and 723 females.

Puerperal diseases were responsible for 577 deaths, of which 201 were ascribed to puerperal septicaemia (viz., puerperal fever, puerperal peritonitis, and puerperal phlebitis), and 376 to other puerperal accidents of pregnancy and confinements. As the total number of confinements during the year was 112,921, it follows that one mother in every 195 succumbed to puerperal disease. Of the 577 women who died during 1909, 25 were 15 and under 20 years of age, 85 were 20 and under 25, 148 were 25 and under 30, 133 were 30 and under 35, 111 were 35 and under 40, 66 were 40 and under 45, and 9 were 45 years and upwards.

The deaths included those of 513 married and of 64 single women. Of 494 married women who died in the five continental States, 151 died on the occasion of their first confinement; 73 at their second; 70 at their third; 44 at their fourth; 45 at their fifth; 37 at their sixth; 26 at their seventh; 22 at their eighth; 13 at their ninth; 3 at their tenth; 4 at their eleventh; 4 at their twelfth; 1 at her thirteenth, and 1 at her fourteenth confinement. The duration of marriage of the 494 women ranged from less than one year up to 27 years.

Congenital debility and malformations were given as the cause of death in 2,905 cases, viz., 1,674 males and 1,231 females; while senile debility was assigned as the cause in 3,194 cases, viz., 1,829 males and 1,365 females.

Violent deaths (exclusive of suicides) numbered 2,664, viz., 2,050 males and 614 females. Of these deaths, 1,011 occurred in New South Wales, 673 in Victoria, 441 in Queensland, 224 in South Australia, 212 in Western Australia, and 103 in Tasmania. Male deaths were in excess for all causes except burning accidents, which accounted for 188 female deaths, as compared with 119 male deaths.

Suicides numbered 495, viz., 398 males and 97 females. The numbers in the different States were:—New South Wales, 146 males and 45 females; Victoria, 97 males and 27 females; Queensland, 85 males and 8 females; South Australia, 31 males and 10 females; Western Australia, 32 males and 4 females; and Tasmania, 7 males and 3 females. Poisoning was assigned as the cause of 70 male and 54 female deaths, hanging accounted for 67 male and 9 female deaths, drowning for 24 male and 19 female deaths, shooting for 138 male and 6 female deaths, and cutting instruments for 74 male and 5 female deaths.

In the cases of 681 males and 406 females the cause of death, as shewn on the certificate, was either unspecified or too ill-defined to admit of proper classification.

In Table No. 34 particulars will be found as to the persons by whom certificates of death were issued during the year 1909. Of 44,172 deaths which occurred during the year, 38,720 were certified by medical practitioners, and 5,088 by coroners, while in 364 cases the deaths were either uncertified or particulars were not given. As might be expected, coroners' certificates were most numerous in cases of sudden death from heart disease, in cases of infantile and senile debility, in violent deaths (3,159 cases), and in cases where no cause was assigned.

Tables Nos. 45 to 51 deal with the issue of deceased persons, and are given for the Commonwealth, exclusive of Tasmania. It appears from Table No. 45 that the average family of 10,751 married males was 5.38, and that of 9,891 married females 5.20. Table No. 46 shews that of 57,889 children of married males, 44,847 were still living, while 13,042 were dead, the numbers in the case of married females being 38,087 living children and 13,387 dead children, or a total of 51,474. The maximum number of children recorded in one family was 25. Table No. 47 shews the age at marriage of males and females who died during 1909. As might be expected, the average family of those who were married young is found to be large, diminishing in size as the age at marriage rises. Thus, males married at ages under 20 had families averaging 6.91, and males married at ages 20 to 24 had families averaging 6.36 children. In the case of females the corresponding figures were 6.96 and 5.63. Females married at ages 40 to 44 only averaged 0.57, and those married at ages 45 to 49 0.08 children; or, in other words, only one woman in 13 who was married at those ages had a child. Table No. 48 shews the duration of life after marriage, while Table No. 49 is a combination of the preceding tables, and shews in combination the age at marriage, duration of life after marriage, and issue. Table No. 50 shews the combination of birth-places and issue, while in Table No. 51 occupations and issue are given. From the latter table it will be seen that while the average family of males of the agricultural class was 6.65, and of the pastoral class 6.27, it was but 3.95 in the domestic class, 4.68 in the mercantile class, 4.82 in the class engaged in transport and communication, and 4.71 in the professional class.

The rates shewn in Table 53 do not require any explanation; they are calculated on the mean population for the year, which is given on page v of this introduction.
